Notes

¹ A value-added tax is not levied to services according to the Article No. 6 (8) second subparagraph, point (d) of the law „On value-added tax”.

² The price of the data medium is not included in the service price.

³ Travelling expenses, unforeseen expenses due to exhibition arranging, lectures, consultations, investigations, archaeological examinations and other services are not included in the service price.

⁴ Preparing and organizing a thematic event in the museum or its territory includes preparing the content of the event and adapting it to the particular event as well as developing the program of the event.

⁵ Providing a thematic event in the museum and its territory includes allocating and adapting rooms for the particular event, providing technical equipment and maintaining order in the museum and its territory.

⁶ Services are provided according to the Law on Museums and the Regulations on National Museum Holdings, evaluating the particular application. The museum has the right to decline to provide the service in case it endangers the preservation state of the item or does not conform to the museum main goals and objectives.

⁷ The final price of the services connected with item restoration is calculated by adding a coefficient K (a coefficient designates the complexity of the work and the intellectual contribution from 1 to 1.6). Expenses for materials are not included in the service price; the client covers these expenses

Coefficient K is added in the following cases:

- 1) $K = 1$ – restoration work that can be done by both the assistant and the restorer according to the methods suggested by an expert;
- 2) $K = 1.2$ (20 %) – the items given for restoration are of complex configuration, thus special tools and skills are needed as well as experience;
- 3) $K = 1.4$ (40 %) – the items given for restoration are of complex configuration and made of various materials, thus special techniques are used, various methods are combined as well as the sequence of their application has to be adapted;
- 4) $K = 1.6$ (60 %) – A new method has to be invented to restore the particular item due to the lack of standardized methods, only a highly qualified restorer can do the work; his work is based on a vast amount of scientific knowledge.

⁸ When providing this service, every item found in the archaeological excavations goes to the National Museum Holdings.

⁹ A value-added tax is not added to the price of the service according to the Article 3 (5)3 of the law „On value-added tax”.

¹⁰ A value-added tax is not added to the price of the service according to the Article 2 (22) of the law „On value-added tax”.
